New Altitude of Excellence

For me, New Year's is like Christmas - a brand new year to unwrap, and even though I don't know the details yet, I do know that 12 months from now, it will have been a gift of grace and goodness from God. The year ahead is one of expanding excellence, both in our lives with Jesus and in TWC. Graham has often commented that Jesus deserves an excellent people ... and we want to continue to become that.

Allison Bown
Director of TWC

In intercession, we took a great deal of territory last year with our Intel Development Training and regional explorations. This is a year to establish our gains and allow what we've developed to put a stake deep into the ground, to put down roots. We are a people who love to pray.

Our training is going to the next level. We're building on the foundation of "fluid and flexible" with upgraded excellence and intentionality. We've developed more specific tools for you and our leaders to ascend to a true Special Forces stature in the Spirit because of not only "beholding" but "becoming" through using every life experience to practice the truths we encounter in our training.

Our community and our teams are growing stronger. We expect to see more local expressions of TWC this year and will continue to gather at Graham's conferences, IGNITEs and on our calls. Check out the upgraded website for new resources and support, consider joining a community call with your team or for training or add a post about your process to Facebook.

Do something you've never done before to get an outcome you have never seen.

Our core leaders have done a fabulous job of reinventing and upgrading in 2014. Our Lead Coaches are now veterans of that role and Faith will continue to rise in her job of coaching, training and developing our leaders and our TWC culture of leadership. This is a time that all of our leaders are learning to use their leadership experiences for their own acceleration. Leaders go first into every territory to open up space for others to follow and ours are going higher into that truth.

At its central core, TWC is a dialogue... one that is getting richer in its thinking, perspective and language - an ongoing Kingdom conversation in which we are exploring what really is possible with a Special Forces trained team on the battleground of intercession. We will stand in even bigger gaps this year with our prayers, our lives and our training. We will continue to give space to discover and watch who expands in it.

Authentic process, either individually or corporately, has fabulous challenges and opportunities to overcome. Use every circumstance to become bigger, stronger and more worrisome to the enemy. You choose the altitude you want to ascend to.

We've been learning how to navigate with the compass of God's true nature and permission.
Now there are some places that we can begin to draw some maps.

Here's to an excellent year for all,
With Joy, Allison

The Warrior Class Ebb Testimonies

Thank you to all of our contributors who used our new Constant Contact survey! Here are some of the testimonies:

Who did you encounter God to be in a new way?

"I rewrote the Crafted Prayer that was shared at the Missing Piece in 2010. Here is some of it. Whatever our unique piece, I proclaim that you are the Master Builder, you hold the key pieces that complete us, and you will set them in place. You are the One who is choosing our new Pastor who is a man after Your own Heart.

Robin Matlin

My constant friend and encourager.

Kathleen Maxwell

There was a sense of calmness. I met Him as a waterway in a hidden movement underneath the surface. At the surface (my life) there seemed to be absolutely no evidence that He is working. BUT as I sat in thankful, worshipful stillness I detected a very strong hidden current of His love and grace and truth.

Julie George

Our God of limitless resources breathed peace into me as I sat before the fire in my fireplace and journaled. He reminded me of the depths of His acceptance, even in storms when I blew it with negativity. His acceptance allowed me to shed layers of perceived limits. "All things possible" lit up my soul.

Lynn Hare

God is the Lover and Encourager in a way I had never truly realized before. I began a journey of reading through my prayer journals starting back in 2008. I found myself stuck in 2010, truly soaking in the discussion Papa and I were having that year. I discovered ways He had encouraged me and loved me when I was still in the wilderness.

Janis Riley

He brought a transformation and expansion I can feel. My soul and spirit are expanded to receive more. When did that happen? How did it happen? A bit at a time but then suddenly I recognized the difference and I know The Holy Spirit did it and God is smiling. Joyful wonderful partnership with God who adores me!! That phrase did it. Thanks Allison!

Peggy Skutt

Was there a particular teaching by Graham or a TWC resource that you felt you were able to explore?

---

I listened to Brilliant Mentorship and Leadership over the break, both which were new to me and filled me with brand new perspectives. Graham's model of integrity and compassion continues to smash the ceiling on my imagination and open up new ways to live for my neighbors!

Libby Kinkead

I have been marinating in "The Kind Intentions of God." Listening to this over and over has just been another level of icing to me on how dearly loved I am. I also feel there has been an upgrade on seeing God's purposes vs. circumstances I see.

Kathleen Maxwell

The November Frontline had a word in it just for me. The holiday with my extended family was different because I had those promises covering me. I put them on and the transformation of the previous months moved forward. Receiving the blessing of the November Frontline helped me press in to create something precious in Jesus.

Sharon Rudolph

I spent some time soaking in: the Overcoming Life 2, as well as Secrets of a Warrior. Both were areas that I will continue to mine for sometime. Key areas: intimacy and worship- that these two areas are my core identity and from these two, everything else flows.

Christine Taylor

Radical Permission 1 filled my life with great joy. It was shared at my leaders home so I found that tripled the JOY we all felt. I love that the Holy Spirit working through Graham makes us laugh:):0 And keeps me encouraged and staying connected to the Vine Jesus!

Robin Matlin

Pastoring in the Prophetic CD was helpful during the past 6 weeks. Finding what God has already placed in the human spirit through Christ seemed to be the lesson for me.

Margarita Hart

IGNITE workshops focuses on the importance of knowing who God really is and who we really are. It illuminates how God overcomes the enemy's efforts to distort our true identity and equips you with tools to engage in a journey that will renew you continually.

You will discover:

- Where to look for clues to your true identity as God sees you
- Common distortions to God's true nature and our identity... and what God intends instead
- Flipping negatives and finding God's opposites
- The process of turning break throughs into a brilliant life with God
- What an Identity Statement is, why it is helpful, how it grows with us and how we can use it as a dynamic tool for growth.
- An opportunity to receive ministry in how God sees you.
- How the knowledge of our true identity in Christ is a powerful weapon and ways that we can fight effectively, positively and powerfully when we know who God really is and who we really are.

When we learn how to call each other UP into our true identity, rather than calling people out on their behavior, we become catalysts and encouragers in our process of maturity in Christ.

Meet Julie George...

Desert cactus flower

I am a desert cactus, a bit prickly but can bloom in tough environments. I have a passion for the written and visual arts, growing wonder for my garden and bee hives, and appreciation for life long learning. I am Neal's peaceful wife of 23 years. A joyful mom of Olivia and Laura, two intelligent and inspiring young ladies. I have been a full-time homemaker and professional volunteer until 2011. I love finding instead in all of life's endeavors. I can be talkative and quiet but I prefer quiet. I need work that keeps challenging me in order to stay focused. I am anything but perfect, however, I am deeply grateful for the life heavenly Father has given me and seen fit to preserve.

My ID Statement: "I am my Father's daughter, I am kept and create at rest in His house all the days of my life."

Re framing Risk... Since 2011 I broke out of many cookie cutter identities. I changed my values for worship, giving financially and how contribute in relationships. The last three years I've taken many risks, I released my true life story to a group of people for a leadership school. I began to seriously develop my creative bent. I tried to run with a meaningful income stream. I started a public speaking project, and I began training formally in prophetic prayer at TWC. My risks have not been without some failures and many critics. It has been the climate that exists in TWC and a small group of friends who have irrigated the seeds of Father's love for me that has nurtured my willingness to continue.

Becoming the beloved ... Through Becoming the Beloved, I have established emotional health. Knowing that I am always my Father's daughter enables me to live towards wholeness spirit, soul, and body. I found through Becoming the Beloved it is key for me to release the things I create; publish the blog, pin the painting, post the photo, and even tweet the comment. I had been intimidated into silence by religion. Expression is evidence that my life is becoming rooted in His love. The gift of creativity is being rooted in His empowering grace.

His nature highlighted... I attract many grace growers as I learn to walk confidently in conforming only to His Nature. He speaks very gently to me. It is His gentility that makes me great and ministers the love and comfort I need to carry on in the journey.
